How do I prepare my house for moving?

Start by organizing, packing in stages, and preparing an essentials box for moving day. Clear clutter, protect fragile items, and label everything clearly.

Use this checklist:

- Notify utility providers and update addresses
- Sort belongings and donate or sell what you don't need
- Pack room by room using strong cardboard boxes
- Secure items with bubble wrap and tape
- Clean and prepare your old and new home

Should I hire a professional moving company?

What should you not do when moving house?

Avoid last-minute packing, overfilling boxes, and forgetting to label items. These can cause damage, delays, and stress.

Common mistakes to avoid:

- Skipping insurance
- Not measuring furniture for doorways
- Ignoring fragile items
- Trying to lift too much without help

How do I reduce stress when moving?

Plan ahead, stay organized, and rely on professionals. Don't try to do everything yourself — delegate, rest, and keep communication clear with your movers.

- Use a checklist and moving calendar
- Keep important documents handy
- Stay hydrated and take breaks

What is the best day of the week to move house?

Midweek days like Tuesday or Wednesday are usually the best for moving house. Movers are more available and roads are less busy compared to weekends.

You may also find better pricing and flexible time slots midweek.

How far in advance should I book a moving company?

Book your moving company at least 2–4 weeks in advance. For peak seasons (summer or month-end), secure your slot even earlier.

Advance booking ensures availability and gives you enough time to plan and pack efficiently.

Also consider:

- Using a labelling system
- Scheduling tasks daily
